

Anne Opiyo and Diana Otieno have been members of CWPPFG since 2012. They say:

“We appreciate the role of this group for championing women and girls welfare in the society. Through CWPPFG, we have been able to benefit from reproductive health care through the provision of contraceptives.”